

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

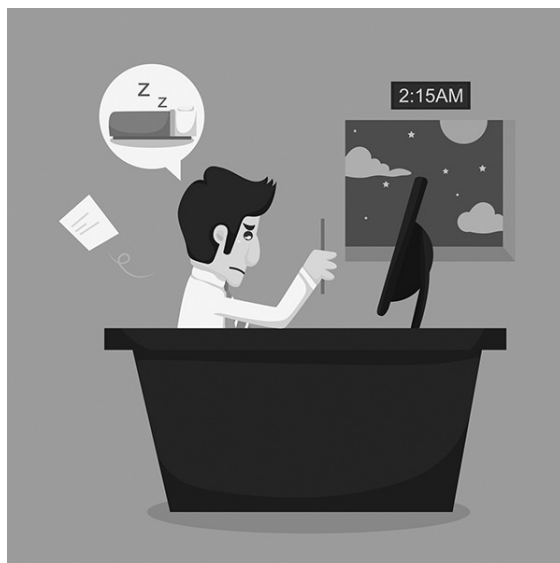

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Pronunciation Spot: Hard work pays off.

Learning Outcome

Accurately use information about people's jobs and places of work in communicative situations

Ask your partner:

- Do you work and study at the same time?
- Do you prefer learning in a classroom or online?

Can Do Statements

- I can say and compare words with the a and u sound.
- I can talk about subjects to study.
- I can identify key information in a short audio.

Let's Explore!

Peter and Sally talk about Peter's new accounting course.

* Listen for words with the t sound like - "accounting", advantage, partner, computer, started.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Sally: Hey, Peter. Have you started your new accounting course?
Peter: Yes. It's interesting. It seems to be both online and coursework.
Sally: What do you mean? Computer programming? I can't stand IT stuff.
Peter: No, we have to contribute to online discussions and work with partners. I have to use my webcam.
Sally: Oh, I see. Are you marked on your participation?
Peter: I think so. I've been busy researching math notions all afternoon. It's a bit overwhelming!
Sally: You sound a bit stunned. I hope it's worth it. You're either working or studying now. You never come over.
Peter: Well, it's the best and cheapest fit for me. It might give an advantage in the job market.
Sally: I hope it pays off.
Peter: I have big dreams, Sally. I want to be retired by 55.
Sally: Oh Peter, you'll need to make some big bucks!
Peter: Tell me about it! I won't be looking back.

Let's Practice!

Time to focus on minimal pairs

Instructions: Practice reading the sentences or words aloud.

1. stand, stunned
2. back, bucks
3. cam, come
4. You sound a bit stunned.
5. I have to use my Webcam.
6. Come on Peter, you'll need to make some big bucks!
7. Tell me about it! I won't be looking back.
8. I can't stand IT stuff.

Let's Practice!

Let's talk about Peter's new course.

Instructions: Find and fix the mistake. Each sentence has 1 mistake.

1. It seems to be both inline and class work.
2. We have to contribute to online discusions and work with partners.
3. Have you started your new acounting course?
4. I've been busy reserching math notions all afternoon.
5. Are you marked for your partisipation?

Extension Activity

Let's focus on pronouncing difficult sounds.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Read the words in the table aloud with a partner.
- Write 5 sentences about work or school.
- Use 10 words from the table.
- Find any difficult words in a dictionary.
- Read the sentences with a partner.
- Try to create a tongue twister!

Self-Assessment

Yes

No

I read the minimal pairs with a partner.

☐ ☐

I write 5 sentences about jobs or school.

☐ ☐

I read the sentences to a partner.

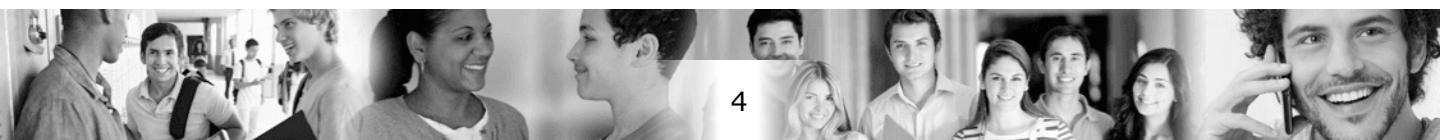

☐ ☐

ankle	uncle
back	buck
badge	budge
bag	bug
ban	bun
crash	crush
dabble	double

Target Words

- programming (noun): the act or job of creating computer programs
e.g. Are you learning computer programming?
- to contribute (verb): to help to cause something to happen
e.g. We have to contribute to online discussions.
- overwhelming (adjective): difficult to manage
e.g. All this work is a little overwhelming.
- tell me about it (expression): to agree with something e.g. Tell me about it! Working and going to school is hard.
- to retire (verb): to stop working at a job or career because of age e.g. I want to retire before I turn 60.
- pay off (expression): to receive benefit for completion of work
e.g. I hope all this work pays off.

Learning Points

The Sound /t/ Between Consonants

There are 4 different ways to pronounce the t sound.

Sound 1: True t sound

If t is the first sound of a word or is the main sound of a stressed syllable, you say t like the actual t sound. This rule overrules any of the other rules listed below. The t sound is transcribed as /t/.

Examples: talk, attach, pretend, italics, started

Sound 2: Quick d sound

The t is voiced and is pronounced to sound like a quick d sound when it is between two vowel sounds.

Examples: daughter, computer, settle

Sound 3: A stop

When the t follows a vowel, n sound, or r sound, it becomes a stop. The tongue moves up in the mouth to make the t but does not release.

Examples: partner, certain, fitness, wait

Sound 4: Almost silent t

The letter t is sometimes almost silent when it follows an n sound and is before a vowel sound or r sound.

Examples: center, gentle, advantage

