Let's Start!

It's time to graduate!

Learning Outcome

Describe characteristics of different people and their jobs

Ask your partner:

- What subjects are you studying?
- What courses do you have?
- When will you graduate?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about subjects to study.
- I can talk about hypothetical actions and events in the future.
- I can talk about possible actions and events in the future.

Let's Explore!

It's (almost) finally over for Peter!

* "Almost" means not yet but it's close.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Sonia: How was the final exam, Peter?

Peter: It was OK. I only missed one page. I hope there weren't too many questions on it. What about you?

Sonia: It went well. I might do well on the exam. I'll take Advanced Accounting Methods next term if I get a good grade this course.

Peter: I know you will get a good grade.

Sonia: I think accounting may be a very interesting career. If I graduate in accounting, I'll be able to work in many departments. My cousin is an accountant, and now she has a great job.

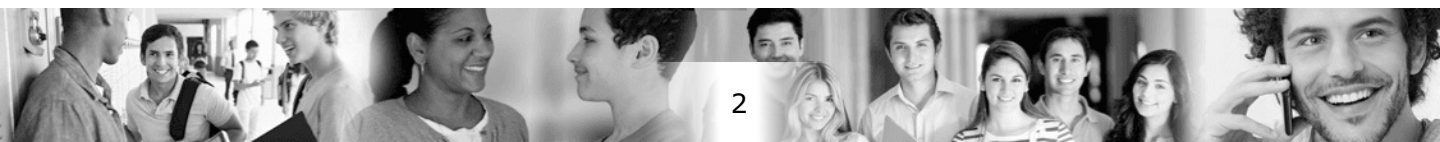

Peter: A career in accounting? Yuck!

Sonia: I'll take either Techniques of Leadership or IT Systems next year.

Peter: Those are two very different courses.

Sonia: I know! It's hard to decide.

Peter: Just two more summer courses and then it's finally over for me! Yahoo!

Let's Practice!

Sonia talks about her program of study for the future.

Instructions: Read the dialogue again. Choose all the correct answers.

- | | |
|--|---|
| 1. What course will Sonia take next term? | ☐ Advanced Accounting Methods
☐ Techniques of Communication
☐ Leadership Systems |
| 2. What course will Sonia take next year? | ☐ Leadership and Communication
☐ Techniques of Advanced Accounting
☐ IT Systems |
| 3. What is NOT a course mentioned in the dialogue? | ☐ Advanced Accounting Methods
☐ Techniques of Communication
☐ IT Systems |

Let's Practice!

Sonia talks about hypothetical situations. What part is the condition? What part is the result?

Instructions: Choose the correct answer to complete the sentence. Use one of the words in brackets.

- (Result / Condition): If I graduate in accounting,
(Result / Condition): I'll be able to work in many departments.
- (Result / Condition): I'll take Advanced Accounting Methods next term ...
(Result / Condition): if I get a good grade in this course.

Extension Activity

Discuss things that are possible or certain in the future.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Think of six actions or events that could take place in your life in the future.
- Decide if each thing is possible or certain.
- Talk about each thing. If it is possible, use may or might. If it is more certain, use will.
- Ask your partner to talk about actions or events in their future.
- Discuss the actions or events.

Learning Points

The First Conditional

You can use the First Conditional to talk about actions and situations in the future.

There are two parts to the sentence.

One part is the condition. The other part is the result.

Form:

If + subject + Simple Present tense + subject + will or can

You use a comma after the condition in this form.

Condition	Result
If I graduate in accounting,	I'll be able work in many departments.

You can change the two parts of the sentence so that the result comes first.

Result	Condition
I'll take Advanced Accounting Methods next term	if I get a good grade this course.

Modals May, Might, Will

You use the modals may and might to show possibility. They have the same meaning.

You use the modal will to predict the future in a more certain way.

Modals go before a verb in the base form. The verb does not change.

I think accounting may be a very interesting career.
I might do well on the exam.
I'll take either Techniques of Leadership or IT Systems next year.
