Let's Start!

Did you ask for permission?

Learning Outcome

Accurately use information about people's jobs and places of work in communicative situations.

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about subjects to study.
- I can ask for and give permission.
- I can make and respond to promises.

Ask your partner:

- When do you think it is important to ask for permission?
- When is it not important?

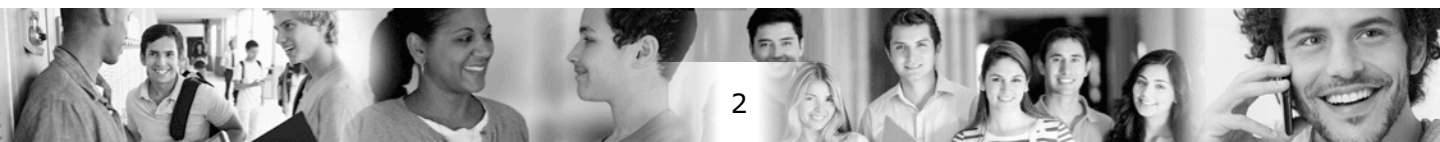

Let's Explore!

Peter meets his new partner for a class project.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Taylor: Hi, can I sit here?
Peter: Sure!
Taylor: I'm Taylor. Looks like we're going to be partners for the accounting project.
Peter: Great! I'm Peter. I'm not very good at mathematics, but I promise to try hard.
Taylor: I'm sure you will. I'll help as much as I can. I believe in teamwork.
Peter: Me too! I promise I'll be a good partner.
Taylor: Great! Are you taking Economics or Calculus?
Peter: No, that's too much math for me. Would you mind if I borrow your notes after class?
Taylor: I guess not.
Peter: Thanks, I'll give them back the next day. Can I photocopy them?
Taylor: Alright.
Peter: Could I use your textbook this weekend? I'll buy my copy next week.
Taylor: OK, no problem. I'll bring it tomorrow.
Peter: Thanks! You're going to be a great partner!

Let's Practice!

Is Peter good at math?

Instructions: Use the words from the Word Bank to correctly complete the sentences.

Word Bank

accounting / calculus / math / economics /
textbook / mathematics

Taylor: Looks like we're going to be partners for the _____ project.

Peter: I'm not very good at _____, but I promise to try hard.

Taylor: Are you taking _____ or _____?

Peter: No, that's too much _____ for me.

Peter: Could I use your _____ this weekend?

Taylor: OK, no problem. I'll bring it tomorrow.

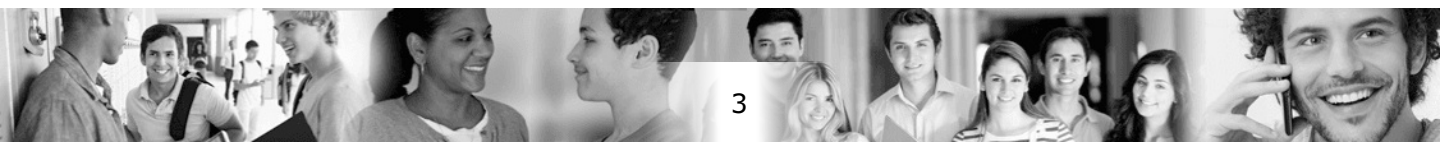

Let's Practice!

What promises does Peter make?

Instructions: Read the sentences. Fill in the blank with the missing word. Use: Great, to try hard, I'll buy, I promise, I'm sure, no problem.

1. Peter: I'm not very good at mathematics, but I promise _____.

Learning Points

Asking for Permission

When you ask for permission, it is important to be polite.

You often use a modal like can, may, could to ask for permission.

You can also ask a Yes or No question like "Is it OK if ... " or "Would you mind if ... "

Here are some ways to ask for and give permission.

Asking for Permission	Giving Permission
Can I sit here?	Sure!
Would you mind if I borrow your notes after class?	I guess not.
Can I photocopy them?	Alright.
Could I use your textbook this evening?	OK, no problem.

Making and Responding to Promises

You use the Future tense (with will) to make promises.

For example:

I'll phone him back immediately, I'll do it at once.

You can respond to promises with an expression like:

Great, thank you!

I'm sure you will.

Alright.

OK.

That's fine.

Sure, that works.

Examples:

• Peter: I promise I'll be a good partner.

Taylor: Great!

• Peter: I'll buy my copy next week.

Taylor: OK, no problem.
