Let's Start!

Let's review!

Learning Outcome

Describe characteristics of different people and their jobs

Ask your partner:

- What course do you want to take in the future? Why?
- What job do you want in the future? Why?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about subjects to study.
- I can ask for and give advice.
- I can talk about hypothetical actions and events in the future.
- I can talk about possible actions and events in the future.

Let's Explore!

Peter is finished his courses! He talks with Sally about his next steps.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Sally: Are you finished your courses now, Peter?
- Peter: Yes, my summer courses in math and accounting were difficult, but I passed the exams. My classmates helped a lot.
- Sally: What courses did you like best?
- Peter: I really enjoyed Human Resources and Digital Resource Management. That's about how a company can protect its reputation online.
- Sally: That's cool. Did you take the course Effective Negotiation?
- Peter: No, unfortunately.
- Sally: What are your next steps?
- Peter: I may apply for a few positions. If I get a job, I'll stay in one place. If I don't get a job, I'll go traveling like you. What do you think?
- Sally: That's a good idea. You should take a break for a while.
- Peter: Where should I go?
- Sally: I would recommend going to Spain. I really loved that country.
- Peter: I might go to Europe. That would be fun.

Let's Practice!

Do you have any advice for Peter? Should he apply for a new job?

Instructions: Draw a line from the question on the left to the response on the right.

Learning Points

The First Conditional

You can use the First Conditional to talk about actions and situations in the future.

There are two parts to the sentence.

One part is the condition. The other part is the result.

Form:

If + subject + Simple Present tense + subject + will or can

You use a comma after the condition in this form.

Condition	Result
If I get a job,	I'll stay in one place.
If I don't get a job,	I'll go traveling like you.

You can change the two parts of the sentence so that the result comes first.

Result	Condition
I'll take Advanced Accounting Methods next term	if I get a good grade in this course.

Learning Points

Asking and Giving Advice

There are many ways to ask for and to give advice.

Here are some expressions you can use to ask for and to give advice.

Asking for Advice	Giving Advice
What do you think?	It's good to ...
How do you suggest I ... ?	I strongly advise ...
Do you have any advice for ... ?	Why don't you ...
What should I do?	You should ...

Examples:

• Peter: What do you think?

Sally: You should take a break for a while.
