

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

• Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Wouldn't it be so cool to predict the future?

Learning Outcome

Accurately use information about people's jobs and places of work in communicative situations

Ask your partner:

- Is it possible to predict the future? Why or why not?
- Would you like to be able to predict the future? Why or why not?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about subjects to study.
- I can ask if / when people are free.
- I can talk about possible actions and events in the future.

Let's Explore!

Peter and Jacob are talking about programs of study.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Peter: Another accounting class! I really don't like this course.
Jacob: I know what you mean. Numbers and more numbers!
Peter: Too bad this course is compulsory. What a drag! What other courses are you taking?
Jacob: I'm doing a major in humanities. Accounting is only a minor for me.
Peter: What area of the humanities?
Jacob: It's subjects like history, literature and philosophy. Are you free on Saturday?
Peter: I might be free. I have to finish the class project first.
Jacob: The humanities department is having a party on Saturday. Do you want to come?
Peter: I might go. Thanks!
Jacob: I may take a futurology course next term.
Peter: Futurology?
Jacob: Yeah, it's the study of predicting the future. We ask questions like: will technology make our lives better? Will we have a world government?
Peter: My question is: Will this course ever be over?

Let's Practice!

Jacob studies the humanities. Does this sound interesting to you?

Instructions: Draw a line from the word on the left to the definition on the right.

- | | |
|-------------------|---|
| 1. history | a) subjects like history, literature and philosophy |
| 2. literature | b) the study of the past |
| 3. philosophy | c) the study of works of writing |
| 4. The humanities | d) the study of knowledge and thinking |
| 5. futurology | e) the study of the future |
| 6. major | f) the subject of a few courses |
| 7. minor | g) the subject of most of your courses |

Let's Practice!

Jacob and Peter talk about what is possible in the future.

Instructions: Read each clue. Check off the correct square.

- I _____ a futurology course next term.
- I _____ free if I finish the class project.
- Technology _____ make our lives better.
- _____ have a world government?
- _____ this course be over?

may take	When might	Will we may make		When will
might be	will	might have

Extension Activity

Learn more about futurology. Write sentences and discuss this topic with a partner.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Write 4-5 sentences giving your opinion about predicting the future. Is it possible? Would you want to? Why or why not?
- Find 5 predictions for the future. Write them down.
- Read your sentences to a partner.
- Discuss the topic of futurology with your partner.

Self-Assessment

Yes No

I write my opinion.

☐ ☐

I find 5 predictions for the future.

☐ ☐

I read my sentences to a partner.

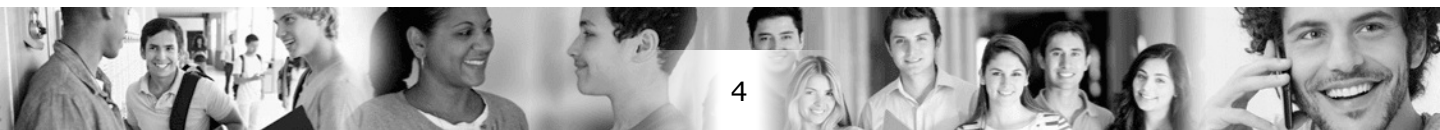

☐ ☐

I discuss futurology with a partner.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- major (noun): in college or university, the subject of study of the majority of your courses
e.g. I'm doing a major in humanities.
- minor (noun): in college or university, the subject of study of a few of your courses
e.g. Accounting is only a minor for me.
- subject (noun): a topic of study in a school (different courses can be the same subject) e.g. The humanities are subjects like literature and philosophy.
- literature (noun): the study of works of writing, like books, plays, poems, etc.
e.g. Do you like your course in English literature?
- history (noun): the study of the past e.g. I'm very interested in world history.
- the humanities (noun): subjects such as history, philosophy, literature, or religion e.g. My courses are in the humanities this term.
- futurology (noun): the study of what might happen in the future
e.g. I may take a futurology course next term.
- philosophy (noun): the study of knowledge and the way you think e.g. Philosophy is one of the courses in the humanities.
- what a drag (expression): it's a bad thing; it's inconvenient e.g. Too bad this course is compulsory. What a drag!
- to predict (verb): to expect that something is going to happen in the future
e.g. Futurology is the study of predicting the future.

Learning Points

Ask If/When People Are Free

When you want to spend time with someone, you ask them if or when they are free.

You use these phrases to ask people if or when they are free:

Are you free on ... ?

How does (day) sound?

When are you free to ... ?

What day are you free?

Examples:

- Are you free on Saturday?
- How does Sunday sound?
- When are you free to study for the exam?

Modals Will, May, Might

You use the modals may and might to show possibility. They have the same meaning. You use the modal will to predict the future in a more certain way.

Modals go before a verb in the base form. The verb does not change.

Examples:

- I may take a futurology course next term.
- I might be free if I finish the class project.
- Technology will make our lives better.
- We will have a world government.

